"CONNELLY'S ALLEY."

The classic precinct of "Connelly's Alley," in the vicinity of Eighth street, was visited by a fire about eleven o'clock, Tuesday night, which caused the destruction of three Lancaster, and occupied by colored families.

The occupants lost all their household goods, as the rapid spread of the flames gave them little opportunity to save anything. The fire department confined the flames to the three houses destroyed, saving the surrounding property.

SOME WINTER WEATHER

Kentucky has doubtless seen bitter winter weather like the present spell, but THE NEWS has been unable to find any of the "oldest inhabitants" whose keen memory of dates and occurrences could recall it. Nothing like it can be recalled by very many of present genera-

Snow has succeeded snow until the very topmost crust of the North Pole seems to have slipped its moorings and landed plump in the land of bluegrass. Zero weather has become to common that the salution "How is the thermometer this morning," generally elicits the reply, "Oh, just normal-about ten below zero!"

Since last Sunday, when the mercury played the deuce in the deck to the extent of dropping to 19 degrees below zero, every day has witnessed zero weather, varying from three to eight below. Yesterday kept up the average, the temperature cuddling in the bottom at about eight below.

As usual, the gas pressure was somewhat weak, though Paris has been a little bit more fortunate than some other cities in Central Kentucky, where complaints of an almost total lack of pressure were Communication Army A bird's-eye view of the country today would show a mighty panorama of military and industrial activities.

Radiating from the National Capitol and from the army and navy centers throughout the land would appear the thousands of telephone lines by which all these vast enterprises are directed and co-ordinated-a veritable maze of wires linking together the camps, yards, fortifications, plants and offices, and swarming with linemen, cablemen and installers, busy with Uncle Sam's existing and ever-increasing demands for telephone service.

All this is but a part of the vast work which the Bell system is doing, but among the unforeseen conditions which the war has imposed upon us is the necessity of practically suspending the commercial development of our business.

Confronted with an abnormal increase in the use of the telephone and an unprecedented demand for new and additional service, we cannot accept or fill orders except subject practically to an indefinite delay. This situation is due to the importance of conserving our supplies so that the government's requirements may be promptly met at any time a request is made.

At a time like this, we believe the public will appreciate a frank statement of the situation and will join us in our efforts to serve the government first and efficiently.
